

Nadia Khalafallah

A Japanese teaching assistant at Aswan University

Souq El-khakis El-qadim,
Aswan, Egypt
(+20) 01126671800
nadia.khalafallah@yahoo.com

EXPERIENCE

Teaching assistant, Aswan University

2018- till now

Teaching students all about the Japanese language and Japan and deepening their knowledge about Japanese culture and managed to help students achieve their ambitions in communicating with other cultures confidently and fluently and going abroad and acquiring a new culture.

EDUCATION

Aswan University, Aswan, Egypt — Bachelor degree

September 2013 - August 2017

Studied Japanese language, literature, culture, and history (as a first language).

Studied the English language (as a second language).

Cairo university, Giza, Cairo - Master degree

October 2018 till now.

Making Master degree at Japanese linguistics.

Research title: Foreign words In Japanese and Egyptian Colloquialism – A Comparative Study On Some Social Media Platforms (years 2020-2021).

SKILLS

Computer skills.

Able to use Excel, Word, power point.

Able to communicate with people from totally different cultures, work in a team, and maintain team spirit.

Presentation skills.

Work under stress

LANGUAGES

Arabic (Mother language).

Japanese (N2).

English (fluent).